TUESDAY NIGHT IS... WT DISCO NIGHT!

We're pleased to announce that following the success of last month's first Zoom disco we're holding another one on Tuesday night (26/05). Get in touch if you'd like an invite. All WT members and families welcome.

Bumper edition next week - packed full of some of the fab food and crafts that Members have been making ...

TESTING TESTING 123

It's a testing time for all of us and this week in more ways than one.....Chair of Trustees Nicola had been feeling unwell and has been tested for Covid-19.....but it's all ok.....

Nicola says: "I have been doing the Covid-19 daily reporting app for a while - so I entered in how I felt -and it then messaged me with a link to set up a testing appointment for Sunday in Hereford!

Although a bit weird it was fine. The Territorial Army young people were really kind and helped us through what we needed to do and doing the test itself was all ok and nothing to be worried about."

The good news is that Nicola tested negative... Phew!

Meanwhile the Trustees held their first online meeting using Zoom. There was much good news to report about all the great work the staff team are doing to support Working Together members. Also the appointment of three new Trustees—more news on this once we have completed the paperwork. Also positive reports on the finances and the forthcoming annual reports to our funders.

The biggest talking point was the government's latest advice on easing some aspects of lockdown. Trustees agreed that it's too soon to reopen WT's doors yet. We are working on our plans for the future and will keep a close eye on the situation and any new guidance and will re-open when the time is right and it is safe to do so for our members and staff.

Stay safe, stay alert and keep well everyone!
